Father Phil's Ramblings

Last week I was on vacation in Gettysburg and Washington, DC. I had also planned to visit Williamsburg, VA, but as often happens to mice and men, a strong woman named Isabel had other plans. In Baltimore, Isabel was referred to as Izzie by some of the people who were 'touched' by her as she blew through. The trip was great even though Isabel dampened things. One of the highlights was lunch in the dining room of the House of Representatives.

✠ Upon returning to St Juliana, I heard the happy news of a woman - one of our very regular and faithful players - who won $19,000 at our Bingo. Congrats to her!

✠ I also learned - and was deeply saddened by - the tragic death of a police officer. He had been married less than a year and was an outstanding member of the Chicago Police Department. As I pondered the death of this police officer, I prayed and reflected upon the role of police officers in our community. It must be a frequently thankless job. Here at St. Juliana, many of our parishioners are police officers.

As pastor, I believe that the message of Jesus must be heard by the men and women who serve as police officers in our city. There are a few questions that come to mind that must be addressed:

1. Why do men and women join the force?
2. What keeps them whole and healthy in such a job?
3. What support do they get to continue?
4. Where does faith in the Gospel of Jesus come in?

I once read and often use a phrase that challenges me as a homilist. That phrase is "To disturb those that are comfortable and comfort those that are troubled." As a priest, I believe that is what Jesus did, and for all time that should be the message spoken and lived.

Lately though, I have wondered whether we - the pastoral staff at St. Juliana - have helped to deliver Jesus' message to our large community of police officers. Are we truly reaching that which motivated them to join the police department in the first place? Just what is it that drives a man or woman to choose a line of work that asks them to risk their lives on a daily basis, with precious little reward?

I believe that there is something deep in the soul of every law enforcement officer that we need to recognize and touch. The part that sees - or once saw - the job as an opportunity to be one of the good guys, to wear the 'white hat.' Riding the 'range' today, it is probably all too easy for that white hat to get trampled upon, dented and dirtied. One becomes wearied, jaded, cynical and possibly even has given up.

The daily events in the life of a cop range from the banal to the provocative: Police officers are stared at, whispered or snickered about in restaurants; they're out on a social occasion and run into someone they have arrested; they answer a call to a domestic disturbance only to have the victim turn on them; their law enforcement efforts get thrown out of court on technicalities or handshake deals; they rescue battered, beaten and neglected children - from foster homes.

Amid all this they must struggle to see - or even find - the face of Jesus. Sometimes they give up. Sometimes they keep to themselves the pain and sin that they witness. I offer a prayer today for all police officers, that they find strength in their faith and never give up on God's love.

Sunday, October 5th
In the
Father Donald Ahearn
Parish Activity Center

Please join your fellow parishioners after the 7:30 am, 9:00 am and 10:30 am Masses for hot coffee, tea, fresh baked goodies and friendly conversations.

The hope for "Coffee, Tea & Thee" is to extend the feeling of community that exists at the Sunday Liturgy. It will give us an opportunity to meet and greet fellow parishioners, learn about each group that hosts the event and enable parishioners to take advantage of blood pressure screenings, T.R.I.P. sales and other parish events.

This new St. Juliana Parish tradition will take place the first Sunday of each month and it will be hosted by various organizations. This month's reception will be hosted by the Parish Religious Education Board (P.R.E.B.) and next month the Friendship Club has volunteered to be our host.

Parish organizations interested in hosting a "Coffee Tea & Thee" Sunday, please call Tina Pusateri @ 773.631.8789 or Joyce Browne @ 773.631.4127.

Please accept this invitation to join us for the first "Coffee, Tea and Thee" Sunday.

I was kind of "bowled over" when I saw the array of saints this coming week! Wow! What a variety of personalities and charisms! Someone remarked to me that Pope John Paul has "gone wild" canonizing "Blesseds" and "Saints." Lots of people think of that as "political," a diplomatic move to render traditionally anti-Christian governments benevolent towards the Church. I suppose there is something to that. But it could also mean that saints can thrive in any kind of cultural or political milieu.

How fortunate we are that the Pope has "modernized", or maybe "updated" is a better word, the community of women and men officially recognized for their exemplary Christ-like lives. No one can say: "Oh, it was easier being holy in previous centuries; they didn't have all the turmoil and difficulties we are up against!" but, then again, maybe no one would say that. The point is: it's great, don't you think, having a lot more modern saints to emulate and take inspiration from?

When the Church canonizes someone, She is not saying only that this particular individual is special. The Church is saying that being like that person is SPECIAL. It would be hard to believe that the saints were consciously being saints - you know: "By dammy, after I die they're gonna know that I was one heck of a holy person!" I don't think so!

The saints get in touch with themselves, their personal charisms and graces, and live life with energy and style. We are, perhaps, less able to identify with Michael ("he who is like El"), Gabriel ("El is strong"), or Raphael ("El heals"), because they are, in some sense, personifications of God's (El) powerful reality put in terms that we can appreciate and understand. (N.B. "El" is the root of the Muslims' word for God "Al-lah", showing its root in the middle-Eastern traditions of our own Bible.)

Jerome the scholar, Therese the cloistered Carmelite, Francis Borgia the nobleman of the Spanish court, Francis of Assisi, the wealthy merchant's son: all of these people offer us role-models for our own times. Is there among us an intellectual struggling with the deep, philosophico-theological issues of human life, a young adult dealing with the surgings of her emotions and emerging psyche, a wealthy individual wrestling with an inner call to greater generosity to the poor and society at large, an ecologically aware person seeing the resources of the planet depleted by blatant disrespect for an indiscriminate use of natural resources?

Well, there are saints for all seasons. They are to be canonized to show what we are called to be. They are not more privileged than we; they are simply more AWARE.

Attention...

St. Juliana Women!

Are you in need of some time to reflect and refocus?

A women's retreat is planned for October 18th - 19th at St. Juliana Parish and we would love to have you join us. If you're interested or have any questions, please call Mary Pat Henry @ 773.631.3463.

SNOW SHOVELING - Every year we have a group of seventh and eighth graders from our school that volunteer to shovel snow. They eagerly sign up for this project in the fall and look forward to serving those in our parish who need their walks shoveled.

Some questions asked when parishioners call: when will there be notification that a student is assigned, will we have boy or girl shoveling snow, and is there is any kind of fee involved.

Mrs. Lidgus, a teacher at St. Juliana has been extremely generous with her time in gathering students who would like to shovel snow. In October she obtains a list of seventh and eighth graders who would like to provide this service.

When parishioners start calling about snow shoveling, students who live nearest to the parishioner are matched to provide the service. The student is asked to contact the parishioner before the snow falls and together arrangements are made as to when he/she should come to shovel. We cannot guarantee boys or girls to shovel snow. It is most disheartening when a student goes to make arrangements and are told they are not wanted because they are female and may not be strong enough to shovel. A student is usually assigned to shovel for one person. Please let us know if you have a large area to shovel, then two students will be assigned. Students shovel after school has ended for the day, they cannot come before the school day starts. If neighbors will be shoveling for you, please let the student know so they can be put back on the snow shoveling list.

Concerning our students getting paid: Parishioners who call usually want to give our students some kind of gratuity. This is strictly up to your discretion and should be discussed when the student contacts you. When you call, I can discuss with you what the students usually receive.

Please note: it is impossible to find someone to shovel for you on the day of a snow storm, on weekends or on holidays when students are not in school, if you haven't previously signed up for this service. It is important to be put on the snow shoveling list now before the snow falls.

If you are interested in this service, please call Joyce Browne at the parish office.

Tuition Reduction Incentive Program...T.R.I.P. certificates

C.C.D. (Confraternity of Christian Doctrine) News

Our CCD classes began this past Wednesday evening. We welcomed about 300 students from 190 families. The children who attend our CCD Program go to public/private school or are home schooled and then attend religious education classes every Wednesday evening from the end of September until the middle of May.

The children in our program in grades 1 through 8 are taught by 22 Adult volunteers from our parish who are willing to share their knowledge and love of our Catholic faith with the students. We are also blessed to have student helpers in the program.

Please keep our program in your prayers this year.

Father Mike's Notes...

Rosemary is a friend of mine who volunteers every year at a used book sale that benefits a north suburban library. Each year the library receives donations of used books and then sells them to the public at low prices in September. What surprised Rosemary this year was the number of Chicago school teachers who drove north to the sale and bought books, not for themselves, but to give away to their students. Why? Because the teachers say that many school children do not have books at home. Perhaps the lack of books is due to a lack of money or other family priorities. But because teachers want the kids to have books, the teachers are willing to buy used books with their own money and give them away, hoping that the students will develop a love of reading.

Rosemary's observation made me reflect about the importance of reading and how vital it is that children be encouraged to read. Whether it is reading novels, fiction, biographies or the scriptures, all of it encourages the use of a person's imagination. But an overdose of television and video games can dull a young person's imagination, and also inhibit the development of a habit of reading for pleasure and recreation.

Reading is also important because it can inspire a young person. Last week I visited the fifth graders in our parish school and we learned about the saints. It was great to see the enthusiasm that the kids have about saints, wanting to know more about their patron saints and St. Juliana herself. Kids today are looking for heroes and I believe the heroic stories of saints can inspire children as well as adults to live our faith well. We can feed that interest in reading about the saints by making good books available in our school and in the home. Parents and grandparents might consider adding a collection of stories about saints to your home.

Share good books, let your children see you reading and ask them about what they are reading. Together we can form in young people a habit of reading that is informative, inspirational and enjoyable for life.

Have a good week.

ATTENTION MOMS.....

As women share in the joy and miracle of giving life, a young mom's time is also surrounded with activities, children, careers, family and friends. Life is full! In trying to meet everyone's needs, a mom's needs are sometimes put on the back burner.

St. Juliana Parish hosts a special time for moms of school age or preschool age children. This is a time for moms and their peers to come together and in an informal way share the joys, difficulties, and humor of parenting.

Our first meeting of the 2003/2004 season will be held on Wednesday morning, October 1st, 9:30 am - 11:00 am. If you are interested please join us.

If you have any questions or comments concerning this program, please fill out the form below and drop it off at the Parish Business Office to the attention of Joyce Browne or feel free to call @ 773.631.4127.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Did you ever notice how often the angels are referred to during Mass? We commonly meet them in the Confiteor ("I ask blessed Mary, every virgin, all the angels and saints"), prefaces ("with angels and archangels and the whole company of heaven"), the Roman Canon ("we pray that your angel may take this sacrifice"), and Eucharistic Prayer IV ("countless hosts of angels stand before you to do your will"). This week angels abound as we celebrate Michael, Gabriel, and Raphael on September 29 and the Guardian Angels on October 2.

September 29 was originally the feast day for Michael alone. Gabriel and Raphael joined him in the 1969 reform of the Church calendar. The celebration of the Guardian Angels has been observed since the sixteenth century in Spain. Pope Clement X assigned the feast to the first free day after St. Michael's in 1670, and there it has remained. Take some time this week to reflect on these, God's messengers and our protectors, and maybe even celebrate with a little angel food cake!

KNOW THE ANGELS

Make yourself familiar with the angels, and behold them frequently in spirit. Without being seen, they are present with you.

NEWS FROM THE THIRD GRADERS OF ST. JULIANA SCHOOL

Room 28 - Mrs. Casey

Ready, set, go! Third graders in Room 28 are off to a brilliant start in all of our subjects. We are "In the Spotlight" for our work in Religion, Social Studies, English, Math, Spelling, and Handwriting and shining brightly through it all! Just ask someone about being Jesus' friend or where all of the continents are, and you'll find out just how much we know. It will be an exciting year for all of us and we can't wait to show off just a little.

Room 30 - Mrs. Schmitt

Room 30 has been enjoying the study of maps. We talked about places we have been and places we would like to go. It was fun identifying all seven continents. What a small part of the world we live in!

Room 27 - Mrs. Stolarski

The students of Room 27 enjoyed adding Their own favorite locations to an Edison Park map. These third graders sure know their way around! They also made special address booklets which gave them a global perspective.

With Track-a-thon approaching, the students combined their English grammar skills and their computer abilities to make posters reminding everyone of this annual event. The students used each of the four types of sentences and created their own illustrations. What a great way to show our school spirit!
