PASTORAL COUNCIL
MISSION STATEMENT

The St. Juliana Parish Pastoral Council is an enthusiastic, compassionate, faith-filled community participating in the ministry of the Church.

We are witnesses of the Good News, and through example and prayer we live the Gospel message.

Through active listening we strive to determine and understand the diverse needs of our parish and community. We minister to these needs by inviting and empowering others to become involved in meeting the spiritual, temporal and social needs of all.

We partner with the Pastor and Staff to support existing parish life, to create vision, and to plan for the future.

Father Phil's Ramblings

Last Sunday's Gospel was the Parable of the Good Samaritan. All the priests used the parable in their homilies. Father Mike McGovern spoke about an incident that occurred on the tollway while he was returning from southern Illinois. A Chevy Suburban overturned and many people stopped and offered assistance while others passed by without stopping.

When Fr. Mike shared his experience with me, I told him that I'd never experienced a similar situation myself and did not know of anyone who had. Little did I know that on July 11th, the Parable of the Good Samaritan would be relived in our own church; people helping people.

I am writing this article to prevent false information from spreading and quell any rumors concerning the incident.

Last Sunday a young man from the neighborhood entered the church during 12:00 Mass. He had doused himself with a mixture of turpentine and weed killer and announced he was going to take his life and the lives of others. Quickly, many Good Samaritans reacted and restrained him until the police arrived. The man was taken to the hospital, then to the 16th district police lock-up.

Upon investigation, the police and fire departments learned that the man had not only poured the flammable substances on himself, but also on the carpet in the rear of the church. A section of the carpet was removed by the police for evidence, and the fire department handled cleaning the remaining carpet.

The young man was later charged with a felony. I am hopeful that he will begin to receive some very much-needed care in the future; he is a very sick man. As Fr. Bob said during the Mass -- not yet aware of the entire story -- we should pray for him.

The people who subdued the young man are to be acknowledged and praised for their quick thinking and action. The incident could have been much more serious, and we are quite fortunate. As pastor, I thank the Good Samaritan parishioners, as well as the police and fire department personnel who arrived on the scene and handled everything efficiently and professionally.

Opportunities to be a Good Samaritan can happen any time and at any place. When we encounter the need to act, may we always be ready to answer the call.

“Martha, Martha, You Are Anxious And Worried About Many Things”

There was a reflection printed in Friday, July 2nd's Tribune. It was entitled: “Longing for the Sounds of Silence.” Sort of brings back memories of Simon & Garfunkel's hit tune of many years ago, no? The author of the article is a certain Peter Mandel, a writer of books for children, who lives in Providence, R.I. May I share it with you?

“Speak softly, carry a big stick. Children should be seen and not heard. It is hard to remember since we are now as noisy as birds, but being quiet used to be a sort of goal.

An American, we thought, was strongly silent. Listening and watching, he would cut his trail.

Do it yourself, he said. Hammer a cabin, farm some land, chop down trees deep in the woods. All out of earshot of any neighbor.

He relied on himself, that American. She made what she needed.

They lived alone.

It is hard to remember, now that we are constantly in touch. I do not know when it happened, but our quietness is gone.

Suddenly we are sociable, even chatty. We are eager to broadcast where we are and what we know at all times. And we have lots to say.

The phone chats, the checking of e-mail, the chirp of the pager, the buzz-buzz of the fax. We stay in contact in our home, these days, at work and in our cars. We listen and talk on the street, at movies and at the mall.

Need some information? Someone or some device is at our elbow to look it up. ‘Use your search engine,’ we are told when there's a question. And, in fact, there is:

The thing I keep asking Google is the thing it cannot tell me: Am I independent? I punch in, hammering the keys. Am I American? I ask.

Am I alive!?

Holding up in a shack somewhere may be my way to find out. But I do not know how to build things. Finding my way in a forest? Not very likely. And I may be afraid when I am alone.

Could I be a pioneer? I think. Could I make a fire and sit there and read a book, let's say, and rely on my own five senses and clear mind?

I have my doubts.

I've lost the jackknife I used to whittle with as a kid. I've lost my slingshot too, the one I carved out of a branch. Years ago, I gave away the Boy Scout handbook that taught me how to make knots.

My friends and I used to be one tough crowd, but we've gone soft. We're fat, full to the brim with gossip troubled by the shadows and the squeals of T.V.

We used to blaze trails and now we don't even walk. We used to do things and make things, and explore.

And now we talk, talk, talk.

A week in the life of an early settler packed more risk than we face in a lifetime. But we like to say that we live in ‘dangerous times.’

I'm thinking about keeping silent for one day. But my wife would have my neck. I'd probably be bored. And it wouldn't fly at work: People would think I'd gone insane.

Still, I can't help thinking. About quiet.

About Paul Bunyan, Last of the Mohicans, Little House on the Prairie. About my whittled slingshot.

I miss you more than I can say.”

Father Bob muses: What does silence sound like? Where can I go to hear it? You know, my Mom used to always say to me “Bobby, do you always have to be singing or saying something? Can't you just sit still for a moment or two? Maybe I must return to her wisdom - TO WISDOM.

Butterfly Meeting for Bereaved Parents

At 7:30 pm on the 2nd Tuesday of Every Month
At St. John Brebeuf Church in the Rectory Conference Room

In today's society, we live in a desert with many lonely bereaved parents looking for a moment of peace, a sense that their pain is understood. They need a free and fearless place such as Butterfly.

If you have personally experienced the heart-wrenching loss of a child, regardless of his or her age or the circumstances, we offer you our deepest condolences.

One thing we have learned is that an extreme which bereaved parents should avoid is blocking their emotions, determined never to be hurt so much again. It is unhealthy to stifle our sorrow to protect ourselves. Even Shakespeare tells us in Macbeth: "Give sorrow words. The grief that does not speak whispers over the fraught heart and bids it break."

If you have any questions please feel free to contact our parishioner, Doreen O'Shea at 773.631.6024.

July 1, 2004

Fr. Phil Dressler
St. Juliana Parish
7200 N. Osceola
Chicago, IL 60631-4353

Dear Fr. Dressler and Parishioners:

Thank you for your generous donation of $500.00 to our families here at the House of the Good Shepherd. We have recently had a fire, which has closed down a section of our shelter, but the Good Shepherd kept his flock safe, we all got out without incident. We are grateful for your longstanding goodness to all of us here at the House of the Good Shepherd in supporting our mission to those in need.

Summer and children playing just go together. Many of our children here have not had good experiences of childhood with all the violence they have seen and have often been victims of. At the House of the Good Shepherd we encourage the moms to be with their children in many ways and learning to play with their children is often a new experience for both.

May this season of summer bring new life not only to our surroundings, but also in each of our hearts. Please be assured that you are in the Sisters' daily prayers of gratitude.

Sincerely,
SISTERS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD

Sister Dorothy Renckens, RGS
Administrator

MISSION STATEMENT

*The House of the Good Shepherd welcomes with love and compassion women and children affected by domestic violence who seek our help.
The shelter is a safe place which empowers women, affirming them in their family role.
A woman and her children are offered opportunities for emotional, social, educational and spiritual growth.
We are committed to helping families by strengthening their self-esteem and giving hope and continued support for a better future.*

GOD'S WORD

God's word is light to the mind and fire to the will so that a person may know and love the Lord. To the interior person who lives by the Spirit it is bread and water, but a bread sweeter than honey from the comb, and water more delicious than milk or wine.

--St. Lawrence of Brindisi

The Picnic Committee wanted to share the following prayer said at the Parish Picnic Liturgy...

A Prayer For Families

God has called us to be a holy family - the St. Juliana Parish family.

Jesus was born into a family and grew through his family life. We are called to grow in families. There we learn how to love in the family of God.

In St. Paul's letter to the Colossians, he tells us ways in which we can be better family members...

You are God's people. He loves you and chose you for his own.

Be kind and compassionate.

Be humble and gentle.

Get along with each other and don't hold grudges.

Forget about wrongs as the Lord forgets yours.

Most of all, be loving, as love makes things perfect.

Answer the Lord's call to be peaceful and grateful.

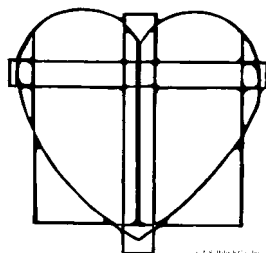

Reach and help one another.

Sing to God with glad hearts.

May the Lord dwell in our St. Juliana Parish Family and make us one in heart and mind.

Amen

*Live the Law
of Love*

LISTEN

The first reading tells of the "annunciation" of the birth of Isaac. It is profoundly mysterious, beginning with the appearance of the "three men." This reading illustrates God's active role in our history.

The second reading treats a universal experience: suffering. Paul sees suffering as the mark of discipleship. He finds joy in the suffering he endures because it is for the sake of the Church. Through his preaching he hopes all people will come to accept Christ.

The Gospel paints a lovely picture of Jesus at rest among his friends. Luke has placed the incident right after the parable of the Good Samaritan. But lest "activism" be seen as the only path, we now hear Jesus' call to sit quietly and listen to the word of God. We have to be like both of the sisters. Even in our hurried and noisy world, there is an insistent call to sit back quietly and listen to Jesus.
